

A Message from Paul's Pantry Executive Director Craig Robbins About the Covid 19 Coronavirus — Paul's Pantry is Here for Our Community

We believe that everyone deserves to have access to fresh food and essentials, especially in times of uncertainty.

Paul's Pantry is closely monitoring the latest reports from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), the World Health Organization (WHO), the Wisconsin Department of Health Services, and our local Brown County Health & Human Services Department.

We are taking a number of precautionary measures for the health and safety of our clients, volunteers and team members. Our goal is to do everything we can to keep our operations up and running and people safe during this unprecedented and evolving situation.

We've instituted a pandemic plan across our organization that includes health and safety protocols so we can continue to serve those in need.

Sanitizing commonly used areas more often, sanitizing restrooms more frequently and restocking with supplies, including soap, paper towels and hand dryers.

Wiping down shopping carts, baskets and equipment. Continuing to provide hand sanitizing dispensers at locations throughout the pantry.

Following best practices for safe food handling, as always.

Paul's Pantry is a critical part of the public health continuum and is committed to serving low-income families who need food and resources.

During this crisis, Paul's Pantry will remain open for business. Too many people depend on us for food; we will make sure Brown County stays fed during any emergency.

In the event that it becomes prudent to shut down the main shopping area, Paul's Pantry is prepared to provide pre-made bags/boxes of food to those in need using a drive through grocery pick-up model for distribution of food.

Paul's Pantry continues to monitor and follow recommendations from all health authorities for updated information.

Thank you for supporting Paul's Pantry!
